A review ? a restaurant ? Holly writes a food and eating blog for her local newspaper's website. Read Holly's reviews of two restaurants below. 1 Which restaurant did she think was good? 2 Which restaurant did she think was poor? ? Read the reviews again. What does Holly say about ... 1 the 3 the design of the restaurant (A)...... (B)?????...... 4 the price (A)?????? (B)??????... Here are my views on two more restaurants: A I had a lovely meal at the Flying Fish restaurant in Wade Street last week! The food was delicious. I had grilled squid which was soft and juicy. Cooked perfectly. The service was also good, and the staff were extremely helpful. The only disappointment was the interior design. The room was too dark, and we couldn't see what we were eating. Apart from that it was an enjoyable evening. The prices were reasonable, too! Overall, it was really good value for money. B The Taj Mahal restaurant in Park Road had a pleasant atmosphere and was nicely decorated. The food was tasty and well-prepared. I had a chicken vindaloo that was really spicy, and full of flavor! Unfortunately, the service wasn't as good. The staff were rather unfriendly and never smiled, and our waiter was too slow. We waited for twenty minutes before he came to take our order, and another half an hour before he served our food! The restaurant wasn't even busy! It was very expensive, too. Indian restaurants are usually reasonable, so I found this one very disappointing!? Plan a review of a restaurant. Think about what you liked and didn't like. Choose the words and phrases you want to use to describe each part of your experience.

Increasingly, these days, people lead busy professional lives in which they have little time for lunch, let alone time to meet the next possible Mr or Ms Right. The emphasis in our lives is on using time we have left outside of work well, spending 'quality time' with our family and friends. So, it's no surprise that speed dating has become so popular. An activity in which busy men and women go to an organized event, have three-minute chats with more eligible members of the opposite sex than they would normally meet in a year, and then decide who might or might not be a potential partner, is a great example of perfect time management. Speed dating is a relatively new phenomenon. Its first event was staged at Pete's Cafe in Beverly Hills California in 1998, and organized by a group of Jewish students who wanted to meet other singles of the same religion. They were sure it was a good idea and expected that large numbers of people would enjoy it, but not immediately. Within a very short time, however, it had spread everywhere, and its popularity was confirmed when a speed dating story line appeared in the hit American comedy series Sex and the City. It hasn't taken sociologists very long to take an interest, either. An American study, carried out in 2005, discovered that it took hardly any time at all for men and women to choose who they would like to meet again in the future. Just seconds, in fact. This study would appear to completely undermine the argument of all those romantics who wonder how three minutes can possibly be enough to decide whether somebody might be 'the one'. It seems that we know instantly. Interestingly, women have a greater instinct for this than men. In a 2006 study, carried out by a Scottish university, over 40 per cent of women, which was twice the percentage figure for men, had made their minds up about the person they were chatting to within thirty seconds.
