Conference proceedings.

We are planning to publish the conference proceedings in a special issue.

All articles devoted to the topics of conference are welcome! Please, note that we will consider articles from participants with and without personal attendance of the Conference. In the near future, we will post the authors guidelines on the conference website, as well as make an additional mail.

Mostly for Russian participants.

Dear participants, if your presenting work supported by a grant from the Russian Foundation for Basic Research (RFBR), be sure to indicate the project number and its name in abstracts. According to the new RFBR rules, over 50% of reports of Russian participants at the event should have a link to RFBR support.

We ask participants to understand this request, as it is necessary to receive financial support from the fund for the conference.
